The image displays a 4x3 grid of 12 grid-based blocks, designed for a Bible size organizer. Each block consists of a grid with a light blue vertical margin on the left, a red horizontal margin at the top, and a colored vertical margin on the right. The colors of the right margins are red, yellow, green, and blue, repeating in that order from top to bottom across the three columns. Each block has a small circle on the left side, and a small triangle on the left side of the second and third rows. The word "horirium" is printed at the bottom right of each block. A large, diagonal watermark "horirium horirium horirium" is overlaid across the entire grid.
